Spot the motorcyclist

Did you have trouble finding Patrick, our motorcyclist, in the March-May issue?

So did we!

Last spring Patrick Stein, a graduate student at CTRE, hopped on his bike to demonstrate how difficult it can be for other drivers to see motorcycles on the road. In the last issue of Technology News, we mis-identified part of the truck at right as Patrick!

Here he is, really and truly.

Patrick Stein demonstrates how difficult it can be to spot motorcycles in traffic.
